

RAAMISH IMRAN

“Empowering Education, Uniting Communities, Shaping Your Future!”

As your Education & Community Officer, I will ensure your voice is heard in every decision affecting your academic experience and student life. I will push for fairer assessments, clearer feedback, and more accessible learning, including flexible deadlines and better support for students with additional needs. With the UK cost of living crisis affecting many, I will fight for more financial support, affordable campus food, cheaper transport options, and increased hardship funding so that no student has to choose between studying and surviving. I will advocate for better postgraduate support, ensuring fair pay for researchers and stronger academic and career guidance. To strengthen our student community, I will push for more inclusive events, better support for student groups, and safe, accessible social spaces for all. I will work to ensure stronger support for underrepresented students, including international, working-class, and minority students, so that everyone can thrive. Transparency is key—I will fight for clearer communication between students and the university, ensuring that student concerns directly shape policies. I will set up regular student forums and stronger academic representation so every student has a say in their education and community. University should empower us all, and I am committed to making sure it prepares you for the future you want. Vote Raamish for Education & Community Officer—because your voice matters!
